This week in 1K...

This week we have been super busy writing our character descriptions about the Big Bad Wolf! We have been trying really hard to use capital letters, full stops and amazing adjectives!

In maths, we have been learning about place value and comparing numbers of objects looking at the vocabulary 'fewer' and 'more' we have shown lots of methods in our journals, we are even using number lines and simple equations!

Our science this term is Everyday Materials and we started by looking at what we already knew as our starting point. We then moved on to natural and man-made materials using own methods to record our understanding.

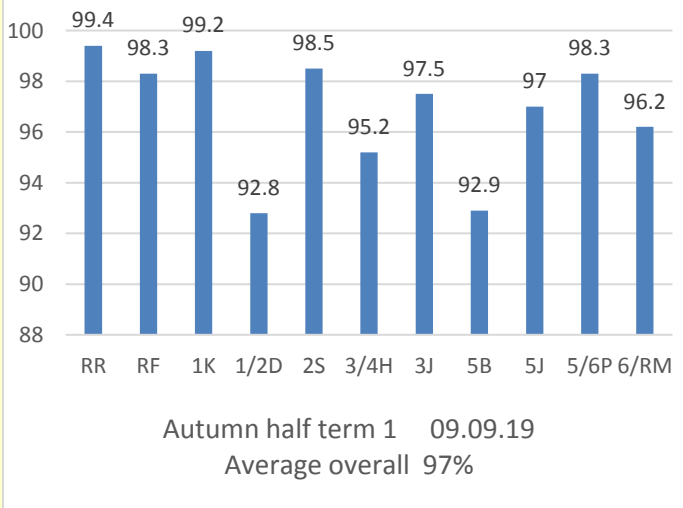

Our history topic is 'the history of toys overtime' and we are starting this week by observing some really old toys that we have luckily managed to loan from the museum!

We have tried really hard putting on our PE kits independently, and ensuring that our uniforms are kept neat so that we don't lose anything. Keep this independence up at home too!

Our computing lessons have involved using various search engines to find a specific web page! We tried out Kiddle and Kidtopia which was a great hit all around!

Wow! What a busy week!

Attendance

Congratulations to RR who were the highest attending class last week with 99.4% attendance!
