This Week in 6P...

This week Year 6 have not stopped working hard. Despite just finishing the SATs, they have taken a mature approach to their learning. The whole class have produced explanation texts on the circulatory system (see the school twitter) after researching their own information and presenting it in their own style.

During maths, the children have been completing little brain teaser challenges e.g. how many different quadrilaterals can be made from a 3x3 dot grid?

Well done to all our Year 2 pupils who have taken their SATs this week. They are all wonderful, talented pupils and we are extremely proud of all their hard work!

Thanks to all the staff and parents for their support.

I hope everyone has a lovely half-term holiday and we will see you back in school on Monday 10th June!
