This week in RR...

Class RR have had an eventful week mainly due to the adventures of the Naughty Bus. Mr Noble is not very happy with Mrs Ralphson because the Naughty Bus was causing havoc after school on Tuesday, making a mess in the classroom and climbing on the shed roof outside. Mr Noble had to stay late to tidy up and to chase after him. We thought that we had solved the problem on Wednesday by taping and tying the Naughty Bus up in a box. All was well until we returned from PE on Thursday to find that the Naughty Bus had broken out of the box and escaped out of the classroom door!

We can't find him anywhere and think that he may be causing chaos around Latchford. We have made some 'Missing' posters so if you see a red London double-decker bus please could you call school.

As well as trying to contain the Naughty Bus, we have been busy learning our rhyme of the week 'Piggy on the Railway' and in maths we have been focusing on number 3 and everything that we know about three. In phonics we are starting to blend and have been learning the tricky word 'was'.

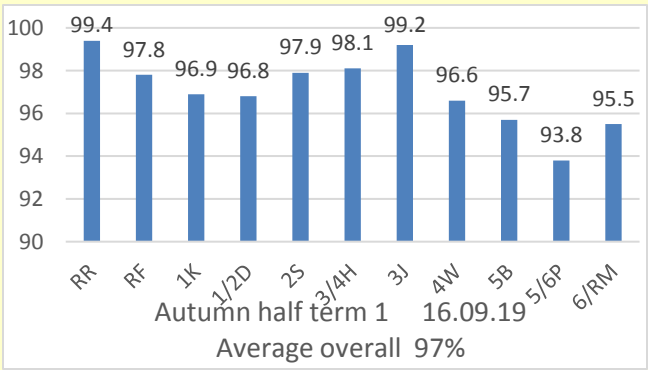

Reading books:

Please can you have a check at home and see if you have any old school home reading books that may have not been handed back in at the end of the school year.

Thank you!

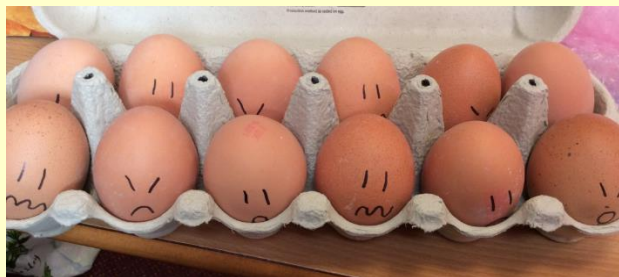

Attendance

Congratulations to RR who were the highest attending class last week with 99.4% attendance!

The overall attendance was 97% which is above the national average.

After School Clubs

Class 2S were investigating which materials would protect Humpty Dumpty if he fell off his wall! Bubble wrap, cotton wool, felt and tissue protected his fragile shell best.
