This Week in 5/6RM

We've had another busy week in 5/6RM.

During our maths lessons we have been investigating capacity, working out the volume of different shapes as well as solving word problems. We have learnt the formula for finding volume is

$$L \times W \times H.$$

Can you work out the volume of these shapes?

Literacy and history have been great fun this week. We have been investigating different Greek myths, researching mythical beasts and even creating our own exciting myth adventures.

During our science lessons we have been experimenting reversible and irreversible changes. We created an irreversible change when we mixed vinegar and baking power.

"It created a chemical reaction! Bubbles rose up and a gas (carbon dioxide) was created at that moment. The gas blew the balloon up because it was so powerful!" Ella Cogley, Year 5.

Extra-curricular activities:

This week, Joe-Paul took part in a football and a rugby match. He scored a goal during his football match, his team won 2-1. He also scored a try during his rugby match...his rugby team also won! Well done Joe-Paul "I scored from the half way line during my football match. I felt proud" Joe-Paul Hannon, Year 5.
