Alderman Bolton Newsletter

Pan Performance

On Thursday evening, the ABPerformers finally got to show off their hard work at the Parr Hall!

It was the annual PAN performance with the Warrington Primary Arts Network! Along with 6 other schools, we based our performances on the theme, 'We Are Warrington'.

Within this, we were given the topic Romans because they once settled here in Warrington.

The children have been working on this for a long time and were excited to finally perform it to an audience! They did a fantastic job, and were excellent representatives of our school! We saw some definite stars of the future!

Young Writers Competition

Some of our children in Reception entered a Young Writers competition, where they had to compose their own riddle.

Congratulations go to Niamh, Sonny, Aheng and Jack S from class RF and Poppy, Finley and Toby from class RR whose riddles will be published in a book called My First Riddle 2019 - Cheshire in June.

Well done to everyone that took part.

Book Review of the Week

Book Review by Isla Patrick

Title: Death or Ice Cream

Author: Gareth P. Jones

This book is about a town named Larkin Mills and links mysterious stories from its past. This book is filled with humorous, eerie and unpredictable stories, all linked to the title: Death or Ice Cream.

I loved this book and it gives you a fright and end with a rhetorical question in a chaotic section of the book. You truly never know what or why incidents happen in this book but it allows your imagination to run wild.

I would recommend this book to everyone; your nose will be forever buried in Death or Ice Cream. It is always a great experience to read books like this as they are extremely unusual.

Rating: 5 stars out of 5

EYFS Chicks

On Monday, we had an eggciting delivery in EYFS. Eight chicken eggs and the incubator arrived. We have learnt about the life cycle of a hen and we are very eggcited to announce that all eight eggs have now hatched. We are looking forward to watching the chicks grow and handling them over the next few days.

Reception parents/carers will receive an invitation
from their child to come to meet the chicks on Tuesday 19th March.
